What does your child's TRACK score mean?

If your child's score is

Less than 80

Your child's breathing problems may not be under control

- Make sure you are following the treatment recommendations given to you by your child's health care provider
- Talk with your child's health care provider about reasons why your child's breathing problems may not be under control
- Ask your child's health care provider what steps might be taken to improve your child's respiratory and asthma control in order to reduce daytime and nighttime symptoms and to reduce the need to use quick-relief medications

80 or more

Your child's breathing problems seem to be under control

- Monitor your child's breathing problems on a regular basis and bring any concerns to the attention of his or her health care provider. Even though your child may not have breathing problems right now, these can come and go at any time
- Continue talking with the health care provider about your child's progress and which treatment plan is right for your child
- Good respiratory and asthma control can help your child sleep better, participate in everyday activities, and suffer fewer recurring flare-ups of breathing problems

Talk to your child's health care provider about your child's TRACK score
